Dear Families,

Thank you for all of your support last week with our annual Terry Fox run. The students showed a strong Canadian spirit as they ran their hardest in their red and white clothes. It was also fantastic to see so many of you again at our pancake breakfast.

Last week in class we began learning about the graphemes. The students have now learned about graphemes 'a' and 'c'. These graphemes are the subject of the homework this week. For videos on how to print and practice these graphemes go to:

Remember, while your child is printing their letters, they should be saying the associated sounds. For grapheme 'a', the sounds are the first sounds in the words: at, ate, all. For grapheme 'c', the sounds are the first sounds in the words: can, city. You can also refer to the grapheme cards for additional details on printing the letters and practicing their sounds.
